Nikki's Notes

Our children have been enjoying the extra play time with their neighborhood friends since schools are still not back in session. Just recently our little Julie came running inside with tears. She said her friend got mad with her for some game they were playing and said she doesn't love Jesus, but only loves Buddha. As her parents we know this little child was just saying something to purposely upset Julie. However, it has put a little spark in her to make sure her friends will love the True God one day. We are always hearing her and Joshua scheming up new ideas on telling their friends about the Lord. I'm so thankful for their tender hearts and that our entire family gets to serve the Lord together.

Faithful Friends, Family, and Supporters,

It has been exciting recently to get back out in the community with tracts. We know there is no substitute to personally sharing the good news of Jesus Christ with people. Please pray that God will give us boldness and open doors in this effort.

We are excited to announce a new addition to our family! Another little boy is due this upcoming January. While Nikki has delivered two babies here in Cambodia previously, the COVID-19 pandemic and our more isolated location have significantly changed the dynamics of staying here for the birth. After much prayer and consideration, as well as the counsel of our pastor and mission agency, we believe that it is best for mother and baby for us to return to the US for the birth of the baby. We are still working out the details, and much appreciate your prayers as we navigate international and airline regulations dealing with travel during this time.

While organized meetings are still officially frowned on, the radio ministry continues to go forward. It has been encouraging to get feedback recently from people in the community who have listened to the program. I am recording new content weekly, and plan to continue this ministry even in our absence. We thank God for this chance to plant the seed of the Gospel.
