Nikki's Notes

The ladies and I had such a fun time at the ladies retreat in October! It was also quite the learning experience for all of us. For example, neither of the older ladies live in a home with indoor plumbing. So when we arrived at our guesthouse I had to give a lesson on how to use the water for the sink and shower. Some of these new experiences led to lots of laughing. I'm so thankful we got to have this time together! As an add on to this: When Matt took the men to the conference in Phnom Penh, some of them had never been in a supermarket before. So they took a little field trip to one and they were so amazed at the air conditioning inside and prices listed on each item. * Maybe these special moments for our people here will give you a better idea on our life in Memot. 😊

Faithful Friends, Family, and Supporters,

The last couple of months have been quite full. In October, Nikki took a group of ladies to a conference, where she was able to help with the teaching and enjoy some wonderful fellowship. Then, in November, I was able to take a group from our church to a men's conference where we heard some great preaching and got to connect with lots of other Christian Cambodians. These were special opportunities to deepen our relationships with folks from the church as well as be refreshed spiritually.

Faithful Men's Conference

We are beginning to set things in motion for our Christmas outreach service. Many Cambodians are familiar with the idea of Christmas but have no idea what it means besides gifts. This year, we have several church members who have volunteered to help in different capacities, and we are excited to be able to expand the program and widen our outreach. Please pray that the preparations will go smoothly, and that all those involved will have God's wisdom in the decisions that must be made. Pray that this program will bring in new folks as well as deepen the commitment and connection of the church members.

Although the church is still meeting at our house, we were just recently able to put up a church sign on the road, and have already had interest and questions from that. Please pray that during this special time of year, we will have many chances to share the wonderful truth of Jesus Christ.
