Nikki's Notes

We've had such a privilege of having visitors with us since mid-November. First, my friend Sarah (my pastor's daughter from my home church in GA) made the trip all the way over here just to spend time with our family, which is quite rare. I'm so thankful she made that sacrifice! She was able to play the keyboard for our services and bonded instantly with our neighbors and church people. In mid-December Matt's parents came. The kids had no idea they were coming and were very shocked to see them! They were able to help in the prep for our Christmas program as well as gift us with some fun family vacation time. Both Sarah and Matt's parents brought many gifts and treats from many of you in the states! What a blessing! Thank you for being so kind to our family!

Faithful Friends, Family, and Supporters,

As we enter the new year, we all look forward with anticipation to what God has for us. Although any attempts to go forward for the Lord will surely meet with opposition and challenge, we are assured that He will accomplish His work. We certainly found this to be true with our special Christmas outreach service last month. From the moment we began to plan this, nothing seemed to go right and we faced a succession of obstacles, including conflicts within the church, a failed well pump, and even a small explosion at our house on Christmas Eve. Despite all of this, the Lord helped these issues to be resolved and allowed all of the preparations to come together smoothly for a children's Christmas play, special music, and a meal of curry for all who attended. We were especially encouraged by how many of the church members went all out to help make this all possible. 85-95 people attended the Sunday morning service on Christmas, including many first-time visitors who heard a clear presentation of the Gospel. Almost 100 young people came to the children's program later in the day, and received gifts of school notebooks, snacks, and gospel literature after hearing the Christmas story. Pray that the Lord will use the seeds planted and watered through this outreach. Please pray for the church as well, to be strengthened in faith and unity. Pray that we will see souls saved and following after the Lord Jesus Christ.
