Nikki's Notes

Our first year in Cambodia, we devoted most of our time to language learning. For me, this time was greatly interrupted because of sickness with pregnancy. Over the years, I've been able to study the language with a variety of tutors and have made great progress with them. However, I've always bemoaned the fact that I never got to complete a full language course. When COVID brought everything online, I got the opportunity to start up those classes again. 9 years after beginning my first language class, I can officially say I have now completed a full language school course in the Khmer language! All the glory goes to the Lord for allowing me to do this. My husband and children have been such a great help in sacrificing much for this as well. My only desire in all of this has been to be able to communicate as clearly as possible with people here, so that the gospel can be known in this region of Cambodia. Thank you for your prayers!

Faithful Friends, Family, and Supporters,

In early March, a group from our church was able to travel to the capital to attend a national conference of independent Baptist churches. It was a blessed opportunity to hear great preaching, praise the Lord together, and fellowship with believers from all over the country. For our small group of believers, getting to be a part of a meeting like this is a privilege that is not taken for granted.

On a personal note, Nikki just went through a serious bout with dengue fever and was hospitalized for almost a week. We thank God for all those who prayed for her through this ordeal, and ask you to pray for her continued recovery from this virus. It usually takes several weeks to fully "get better" from dengue.

We have continued our evangelism efforts here in our local area, as well as village evangelism in the communities of Nang Krapeu, Choam Triek, Ji Peh and Dahm Doh. Although few have shown lasting interest, we have been able to share the glorious truth of the Gospel with many. One man named Tieng Ly professed faith in Christ, but hasn't yet been willing to follow through. We know much of what we are doing is sowing seeds of the Gospel for the first time, but we desire also to see lasting fruit.
