

THE Brown Family

serving in CAMBODIA

Nikki's Notes

It is so nice to finally be home again. We are still setting our home back up, but it's coming along. My parents came back with us and are planning to stay for six weeks. This is their first time in Cambodia, so we've tried to give them the full experience of being here. It was extra special to be all together for Thanksgiving. I'd like to send out a special thank you to everyone who gave gifts that have helped us get set back up here. Your kindness has been such a blessing for our family.

Faithful Friends, Family, and Supporters,

We thank the Lord for a safe trip back to Cambodia! We have been back for right at a month, and it has been wonderful to be home. Our furlough was refreshing and encouraging, but we were ready to be back in our place of ministry. We are thankful to the Hancock family who did a great job of taking responsibility for the church while we were away, as well as to the McPhails, who also helped to fill in.

In our last few months of furlough, we especially cherished the opportunity to be in our home church's mission conference, as well as in the mission conference at our alma mater, Temple Baptist Church/Crown College. We were tremendously encouraged materially and spiritually, and even saw one young man surrender his life to serve the Lord in Cambodia!

Since we have been back, we have hit the ground running. We were able to bring a good group from our church to the annual men's conference in the capital, and now we are in the midst of preparing for our Christmas outreach. This is planned for December 21 and is our largest special service of the year. Last year, we saw a man saved as a result of this service, who is currently growing in the Lord and recently took the important step of destroying all of the altars and other spiritual paraphernalia in his house! We would love to see more to follow in his steps and ask that you would pray that the Lord would once again use this special opportunity. Also pray for a man named Kuong, the nephew of one of our church members who has been experiencing hard times in his life and is showing openness to the gospel. May the Lord help him to truly understand salvation and trust in Christ.

For His Name's Sake,
The Brown Family
