

THE CARDEN'S

See The Harvest Director for WWNTBM

Dear Praying Friends,

January 2025

It's been an exciting month for us! For starters, this is our very first prayer letter! At the beginning of January, Nikayla and I became official missionaries with World Wide New Testament Baptist Missions. It has been amazing to see how God has led us thus far. We are learning so many new things about missionary life and gearing up for a full year of deputation ministry ahead. The Lord has blessed us with several meetings on our calendar already!

At the end of the month, we visited Ambassador Baptist College and were able to speak with students about taking a missions trip (We may or may not have bribed them with donuts, but hey, it worked!). Our team going to Grenada in March is at max capacity, our Scotland team is growing, and many students at ABC expressed interest in coming with us to NYC in the fall. Exciting things are ahead!

We are sure of God's call on our lives to lead the See The Harvest ministry of WWNTBM, which comforts us during this step of faith and major life change. In February, we will film our presentation video and premier it at our sending church during their missions conference. The Lord's placed people in our lives to help us along the way, as one of our friends from college is helping us film the video. It will cost around $500, so please pray God will supply this need. There are a lot things that go into preparing for deputation, more than I expected! However, God's been good to us; and, we are thankful for the prayers and support already received. May God bless you for your intercession on our behalf as we can't do this ministry without you.

For His Glory,

Cody Carden
