South Dakota Travels

Dear Praying Friends,

Greetings from a snowy South Dakota! I have certainly been enjoying the snow and the cold out here! I really do love winter! 😊

Traveling has been mostly good—with the exception of a few storms. I did have one meeting cancelled because of the snow and high winds, but I was able to re-schedule it for a later date (March). Lord willing, the weather will be better this next time around!

I'm just thankful that, in spite of the weather, my meetings this past month have gone really well! I have so enjoyed the fellowship with the folks out here! It's been a blessing to be able to serve with them!

As far as meetings go, I have a full schedule here in SD through to the end of March. Please continue to pray for safety and good weather (and that my car would continue to do well)! Along those lines, I do have 3 trips to western SD planned for March (with meetings on the eastern side in between). My first trip, Lord willing, actually starts this weekend. I'll be heading out to Custer on Saturday for meetings there Sunday, and I'll be heading over to Box Elder then on Encouragement from God's Word...

Hebrews 12:1-2

"Wherefore seeing we also are compassed about with so great a cloud of witnesses, let us lay aside every weight, and the sin which doth so easily beset us, and let us run with patience the race that is set before us,

Looking unto Jesus the author and finisher of our faith: who for the joy that was set before him endured the cross, despising the shame, and is set down at the right hand of the throne of God."
