Dear Praying Friend,

June 24, 2020

God's faithfulness never ceases to amaze me as I see His constant working on my behalf. During June, traveling has finally commenced once again, though not on a consistent basis. I enjoyed presenting the ministry at a church in North Carolina and meeting some wonderful servants for the Lord. I was reminded that every soul has a story, a background, and an eternity to face. Missions is when you accept that reality and determine to show others how each aspect of life has one solution-and that is God.

The Lord provided through several individuals to be able to purchase new tires and complete some routine maintenance for my vehicle! He also prompted two individuals and a church to become monthly financial supporters.

Please be in persistent prayer for more churches to schedule meetings where I can present the mission field of Grenada! Between rioting, Covid-19, and decreases in giving, many pastors are not able to have missionaries come, though many wish they could. My burden continues to be reaching the children of Grenada for Christ and providing them a Christ-centered education. Currently, churches there are starting to open up again on the island, though still with restrictions due to the coronavirus. To reach the children effectively, learning the cultural differences will be vital. My prayer is still to raise enough financial support to move to Grenada this year to get acclimated. Then, I will begin the process of preparation for starting the elementary school and building relationships with the people. Please also pray for good health and safety during these challenging times!

Your support is an incredible blessing and I appreciate your heart for the Lord.

Sincerely,
Rebekah Childers
