

NOAH CLARKE MISSIONARY TO THE AMAZON, BRAZIL

Finished Raising Support

At the end of June, I completed my time raising support in the States. I'm thankful that more churches agreed to take me on for support than I had originally prayed for in the last three months. I'm also thankful I was able to see my sending church one last time in Fremont, CA, before leaving, as well as spend time with friends out there. It was also a huge blessing to visit friends and family in my hometown of Shelby, NC, at Faith Baptist Church.

Made it to Brazil

I want to take the time to praise the Lord for allowing me to arrive in Taubaté, Brazil, and begin serving with two churches as I learn the language. I am currently serving at Victory Baptist Church in Pindamonhangaba, SP, Brazil, which is a new church plant, and I am really enjoying it. I'm involved in soul-winning, piano playing, guitar playing, and whatever else they need. I'm also serving in various ways at New Life Baptist Church in Taubaté, SP, Brazil. I'm involved in the music ministry, soul-winning, and renovating their new church building, which we plan to move into in a week.

Trip to the Jungle

I'm planning a trip next week to several villages within the jungle with my brother-in-law. Please pray for God's direction and for souls to be reached with hope from Jesus. Please pray for God's power as we preach and reach out to these people who need Jesus in their hearts and lives.
