Limited travels

I hope this prayer letter finds you well with everything that is going on. In my daily reading, I'm going through the major prophets and am "not a little comforted" by what is yet to come. What we're all going through now is temporary and we must keep our eyes on the promised future and our participation in it, that is what encourages all of us to keep on doing our work. "...having seen them afar off, and were persuaded of them, and embraced them, and confessed that they were strangers and pilgrims on the earth." (Heb 11:13b) As those before us had this mindset, let us be thus minded as well. During these times, we can tell which Christians are more earthly-minded than heavenly-minded, and vice-versa. This is a good time to see where we are in our relationship with God.

Preaching to the three new "C's": Cameras, Cars, and Computers!

Our travel schedule was limited and we had more meetings canceled but we did manage to visit several churches in Pennsylvania and New Jersey, with some caveats. All of the churches had limited gatherings, mostly just the Pastor of the church and the camera/computer staff. On more than one occasion, I preached directly into the camera. It was strange preaching to an empty congregation that is also not empty at the same time. I'm sure many of you are aware of how this feels by now.

One of the churches I visited had a drive in service. It was my first time preaching to "cars." I told them that since I cannot hear them honk when they're trying to say "Amen," to flash their headlights instead, and some of them did! I probably should have added that if their hearts were touched and became emotional with tears during the message, turn on the windshield wipers!

For another church, I preached from the living room at my home and preached to my computer. During the whole time, I did not see anyone else, only myself on the screen. I felt like I was simultaneously preaching to myself. All in all, those services came out positive and I could clearly see many Christians desiring to come back to church and worship God together in person. Pray that this will happen sooner than later.

New Facebook Page!

Some of you might know already by now, but I took this opportunity while at home to set up a new page on FaceBook that showcases our ministry and what we have been doing. I also put in videos of the sermons that I made on deputation recently if you would like to watch them. To see our page and follow us on FaceBook, just search for “Matt Dundon, Deaf Church Planter” !

New Support Increase and Prayer Requests

Over the last two months, our support level went up from 50% to 51%. While this may have not been as fast as it was recently because of all of the canceled meetings, we’re still one step closer to the field!

- For our support to increase.
- For new meetings in 2021 and to fill up some empty spaces for the rest of this year.
- For safety in our travels, especially with many places starting to reopen.

-Thank you!!!
