Reprieve

July was a quiet month for us, but we had a busy schedule in August with the start of our deaf camp.

Tia's Memorial Service

I was asked to speak for a short time at my sister's memorial service. It was hosted at a country club so it's quite a more casual environment than many funerals I have gone to. I spoke on knowing true peace through Jesus Christ and told them to come up to me if they want to experience that peace, none of them did.

Deaf Camp

A pastor of one of our supporting churches is a camp director at Promised Land Christian Camp outside of Lancaster and asked us to host a deaf camp there. There was a deaf camp there many years ago but it became nonexistent, and he wanted me to restart it. I am grateful that he nudged us a bit.

We started out with about 20 campers, which is a great start. We had horse rides, archery, tubing in a creek, separate men and women swimming, zip-lines, hay ride, etc, with Bible preaching every morning and evening. The camp took care of all of the activities and meals. It only costs $100 for three days of camp per person, 17 and under are free. It is quite affordable.

present his ministry. He is an adopted son of a deaf Christian mother in Ethiopia. Hearing his story was really beautiful and preaching was quite powerful. Yohannes has started multiple deaf churches inside Zambia over the last thirty years. Our church was able to ask him questions after the church service and learn a lot. We decided to take him on for support!

Youth Rally

At the end of August, we hosted our youth rally for two days with J.T. Gorham as our speaker. He came multiple times before and he always has been a blessing to us. The theme was “The Wordless Gospel”, presenting the gospel through colors. We had one boy named Adjani saved! He is a coda, a child of deaf adults that comes to our church.

One big blessing was that one of my brothers, David, came with his family. He and his children were able to hear the gospel. Please pray that the seed will take root and grow.

Prayer Requests

- For my family's salvation.
- For unsaved deaf people who come to church regularly now.
- For me to have strength.

Now that we have a taste of the deaf camp, we're looking forward to hosting it next year!

Missionary visit

We had a missionary named Yohannes Getaneh from BIO (Baptist International Outreach) visit our church and
