

The Gali Family

MARCH/ APRIL 2005

Dear WWNTBM,

This winter has brought some snow, and very cold weather. In fact, as I write, it is now snowing. It has been fun this winter taking Matthew outside and even at his young age reminding him that the blood of Christ can make us whiter than the snow.

In January, we found out that we are expecting our second child in September.

Kristen has had some nausea and fatigue but is now feeling much better.

We have been to two mission conferences in Maryland and have received such a blessing. We are thankful to each pastor and church family that have given us the opportunity to present our burden for Chile. It is wonderful to meet other missionaries and hear about the field to which God has called them. We miss our church family when we are traveling, but it is such a blessing to be able to experience that same fellowship in other churches because we are brothers and sisters in Christ.

We are still working on our slide presentation. It seems that every time we show it in a church we see areas that can be improved. Instead of becoming tired of watching our presentation, I find myself with a greater burden for the people of Chile. I pray that the same burden is reaching those who view it in each church we visit.

We ask that you continue to pray for our family that God will continue to bless with meetings and give safety as we travel. There still is much support needed, but we know that God is able and that He will provide in His timing. Thank you for the continued prayers on our behalf. May God continue to bless your church as you seek to glorify His name.

In Christ,

Mike Gali
