April News

Dear Praying Friends:

"Cease not to cry unto the Lord our God for us" (1 Samuel 7:8b). Two other times Samuel is said to have cried or called upon the Lord (1 Samuel 12:18; 1 Samuel 15:11). To cry unto the Lord means to beseech God for help from a burdened heart. May the Lord help us pray for one another with this kind of concern.

Over the past month, the Lord has blessed us with many opportunities to witness to those without Him as their Savior. Steven, the young man whom we have asked you to pray for, came to our youth mini camp over the Easter holidays. He has not trusted Christ but is still very open to the gospel. His brother Brendan also came to the camp and is open to God's Word as well.

I have also had good contacts with some guys through my weekly basketball games. Guys on my team as well as on the other teams are more receptive to me now that they have known me for a year or so.

One more thing I'd like to mention is that we have had several unsaved folks attend the young adult activities we have at our home once a month. We eat, play games, and look into God's Word. These activities have been well attended with as many as twenty-two coming at one time. Please pray for this outreach as well as the others already mentioned.

Baby News: "Mrs. Gilliam, you sure are getting wide" is what one of Becca's students at school says to her. She has gained some weight of course, but according to the doctor, not above what she should. The baby is due in three to four weeks. Please pray that delivery goes well.

Thank you for your financial gifts and prayers. We are extremely grateful for the faithful friends and loved ones we have praying for us. Thank you for being willing to be used in this way. You are such a blessing to us.

Love,

Kelly and Becca Gilliam
