March News

Dear Praying Friends,

“What shall I give thee?” was a question God asked Solomon. Solomon was the newly appointed king of Israel. He had many new responsibilities, opportunities, and enemies. For what should he ask? Solomon wisely asked for a “hearing heart” (1 Kings 3). Because he asked for this and not temporal things that would have only given glory to him, God granted him both the understanding heart and the temporal blessings. May the Lord help us to choose those things that are “excellent” (Philippians 1:10) and not those things that will satisfy our selfish desires.

Last month, we had the opportunity to have Evangelist Glen Weeks for four days of Evangelistic meetings. We had several first-time visitors to come and one profession of faith during the meetings. Christians were also encouraged to witness and remain faithful to the Lord. Overall, it was a profitable time in which only eternity will show the fruits.

Religious education classes are proving to be challenging and rewarding. Some of the children challenge the truthfulness of the Bible stories (this seems like all bad news, but at least they are listening!). Our youth groups are going well with several unsaved children attending both youth groups. Please pray for these outreaches.

The process is getting underway to apply for our permanent residency visas. Please pray that all will go smoothly and that the Lord will grant wisdom and guidance to those involved.

Thank you for supporting us both prayerfully and financially. We are likewise praying that the Lord will use you to bring others to Him.

Love,
