We hope you all had a wonderful Christmas and New Year! We were able to spend some quality time at home and with family during the last part of November and most of December. For Christmas, we traveled to Michigan to visit my family. Despite a lot of sickness, we were able to have a good time with family. After our visit, we made our way to Melvin, MI for a meeting on New Year's Eve. This worked out great as it was right on our way home.

In November, we spent most of the time down south in Kentucky and North Carolina as well as in Pennsylvania. In Kentucky, the little guys seemed pretty wiped out due to the time change as Judson was completely zonked during the morning service. We are praising the Lord that a man prayed to receive Christ as his Savior in the evening service.

In January, we made our way down south again for a mission's conference in Georgia. Unfortunately, we were unable to give our presentation as there was some snow in Georgia which caused the service to be canceled. However, the church was such a sweet blessing to us and we are thankful for the wonderful time of fellowship and new friends we made. After Georgia, we made our way up to Dandridge, TN. We praise God for strength to present and preach that Sunday as we were sick with what we thought was a little cold but turned out to be the flu. Unfortunately, we ended up in a hotel for a few days due to the sickness. Please pray for us to remain healthy as we travel all over during the flu season. Wednesday, we had to postpone our meeting a week while recovering just before the weekend for our two Sunday meetings. We are thankful for friends in Tennessee who allowed us to stay with them for a week between meetings. It was exciting to see how God worked through church visitation on Saturday as a man the pastor spoke to came on Sunday and signed up for discipleship! He had just recently moved into the area. This is one reason we need local churches active across America!

In our last letter, I mentioned how we were seriously considering a truck and fifth wheel. While it does seem like it would be ideal for our situation, right now, we have not found peace about going forward with it. At this time, Charity and I have concluded it would be wiser to save for a home in California. We do not believe the expense and trouble would be worth it. At one point, I was ready to buy a truck to begin the process, but Charity very clearly and kindly told me she did not have peace about it. As I thought about it and prayed about it longer, I also did not feel it was right for us. Thank you to all who prayed for wisdom in this regard. As of now, we still have the goal of getting to California by the end of 2018 and are praying that we are close to 50% by then. We are at about 30% and anticipate more support coming in very soon. On the kiddo side of things, Samuel turned two years old today; we are enjoying watching our little guys grow. We are so very thankful for each of you who prays so faithfully for us. God bless you all!

Gratefully Yours,
Stephen, Charity, Judson, Samuel and Noah Jenney
