

Joy to the world the Lord is come!
Make a joyful noise unto the LORD, all the earth: ... and rejoice, and sing praise. Psalm 98:4

November/December 2023

Dear Pastors and Prayer Partners,

Here we are, almost in the month of December. It is hard to believe that 2023 is almost finished. We trust that all of you had a blessed Thanksgiving. My wife and I hosted Thanksgiving at our home for several of the missionary families in our area. It was crowded and crazy. Ghana had a scheduled power outage from 9 am until 5 pm that day as well, so that made everything a little more interesting. Despite that, it was a great time of fellowship and feasting. It was good to have a day that we could reconnect with other missionaries and encourage one another.

Things are really progressing with the church building in Kojokrom. We may have the keys to the building as early as next week. The builders are going to finish the big Sunday School room completely so that we can start having services in it while we wait for the rest to be completed. Lord willing, I will be going into Takoradi tomorrow to purchase chairs so we can get everything set up for services. We are excited to be getting started full-time there very soon.

The Bible club that my wife has been teaching every Saturday has seen a decline in attendance, but she still has around 15 to 20 coming. The other missionaries in our area said that they have seen a decline as well. It must be something about this time of year. Tonya had a young boy make a profession about a month ago. His name is Stanley. Please keep him in your prayers. He had been coming to Bible club and church as well, but right after he made a profession, his dad started making him go with him to work and help him. Sometimes, the Ghanaians do not like their children attending the “white man’s church,” and they make them quit coming.

We want to thank Tabernacle Baptist Church, Orangeburg Baptist Tabernacle, Iglesia Bautista Berea, and Trinity Baptist Church for sending money for a church van. I think we have all we need now to purchase the van. We really appreciate your generosity. I have been looking for about a month now and am praying God will lead me to the right one.

Once again, thank you so much for your continued prayers and support.

In His Service,
The Jeremy Kenney family
