July/August 2019

Dear Co-Laborers in Christ,

"Hear instruction, and be wise, and refuse it not."
Proverbs 8:33

Pastor Thomas was one of the young men who helped us start the church in Grand Mal. He has his own church now, but has continued to be a help and blessing to us. In July, he preached one Sunday night. There was a terrible rain storm, but our faithful church family came and heard instruction from God's Word. We rejoiced when two children, Rahim and Nishon, were "wise" and asked the Lord to save them.

We spent the week of Carnival cleaning and decorating for pre-school and our parent teacher meeting. At church, our last activity of the summer was our Back to School Week. On visitation, we handed out pencils and invited students to attend the week of services. We averaged thirty children each night. They earned snacks and school supplies through games and scripture memorization. It was a successful week.

Many in our community were helped and instructed in the pitfalls Satan will use to cause them to fail in school. Everyone seems ready and anxious for the new school year.

Over the summer, many of you gave to help with the van fund. We have been discouraged by what is available and the cost of a new van is out of our price range. Please pray as we continue to search and seek advice from others.

After a summer of planning for new Bible lessons in the church and classes in the pre-school, we are ready and look forward to teaching the children God sends our way. Please pray that they will "be wise," hear what God has to say, and not refuse His Word.

In Christ,

The Mathena's
