Dear Praying friend,

Missions is togetherness. We are working together on the Great Commission from two locations. You pray, give, and give from your location. I pray, give, and go from my location(s). I am honored we are together in missions. Thank you for your continued faithfulness. There is not a day which passes when I am not grateful for you.

Your prayers and giving placed me in seven states to help churches increase their giving for the Great Commission. During these Great Commission conferences, people submitted to the call of God to serve Him, others committed to going to the mission field, and hundreds more promised to give to missions. YOU made it possible. You cared. You prayed. You gave. I am grateful.

Your prayers and giving enabled me to train and encourage missionaries. Sixteen video conference calls were held to allow our missionaries a time of devotion, fellowship, and uplift. They did not have to travel or leave their place of ministry to join this meeting. Your giving makes this meeting occur. I hear reports monthly from missionaries who find enrichment from the meetings. YOU made it possible.

Your prayers and giving afforded the opportunity to attend a memorial service for one of our missionaries who went to be with the Lord after four decades of ministry. I spoke to the many who came out to express their equal measure of sorrow and hope. YOU made it possible.

Your prayers and giving allowed me to speak in a Seminary in Texas. I taught seminarians the biblical mandate of serving the Lord. I call the module, Servant University. I am converting the lessons into curriculum for churches. When completed a church can take the lessons and teach members the ministry of being a servant in the Sunday School or Bible Studies. Please pray I will have this ready for distribution this Fall. YOU made it possible.

Your prayers and giving allowed me to speak to young people, church staff, church members, and the lost. I presented the Gospel dozens of times over the past two months from Washington to Georgia. YOU made it possible.

With gratitude for your love of the Great Commission,

John O'Malley
