Dear Prayer Partners,

“And we know that all things work together for good to them that love God, to them who are the called according to his purpose.” Romans 8:28. This passage of Scripture is being tested in the lives of the Walker family once again. These are the folks in Africa we will be helping next year. You may remember my saying that they have been in the States on a much needed furlough. About three weeks ago, Rebecca Walker’s father was killed. He has been a missionary in Ghana, Africa for many years. He had attended the funeral of a national pastor in another village along with two other national pastors. On the way back, all three were killed in an automobile accident. This means that four village churches are without pastors now. Please, please pray for these churches and the families of the men killed.

Our work of building a seminary to train men in this area has suddenly become critical. We are praying that the Lord will supply the need and send us on our way in His timing. We will be sharing a container with the Walker family and are hoping to have it filled with our things by February. We need wisdom about what to take.

Please pray for two families that we have been witnessing to and have invited to church. They have promised to come but haven’t yet made it. Melinda also had the blessing of sharing God’s word with a young person this past week. I have been discipling a young man for several months now. Pray for his growth. He has a desire to learn and do God’s will. Pray that God will give me wisdom in this area.

Our ongoing prayer requests are as follows: 1) health and safety 2) new support 3) funds for our Ghana trip 4) growth in those that have been recently saved 6) unspoken.

We have received several e-mails and notes and are thankful to all of you for your faithful prayers for us. We love you all and pray for you as well.

In service to our Lord,

Jack & Melinda
