PRAISES and REQUESTS

- Praise the Lord that Josiane received Christ as her Savior.
- Praise the Lord that all is going well with Melissa's pregnancy.
- Praise the Lord for the many contacts that were made during the Coffee Break.
- Praise the Lord for the good turnout for the Christmas program.
- Praise the Lord for the positive outcome of Dennis' trial.
- Pray for the continued distribution of the John and Romans.
- Pray for the faithfulness of those who attend church.
- Pray that the young believers in the church would continue to grow spiritually.

Waiting...

Over the last nine months, the Lord has protected Melissa throughout the pregnancy. Overall, things have gone very well, with just a couple complications along the way. Please pray that all goes well for the delivery. Melissa and baby are at the point where everything is ready to go, and they are in the waiting game (For me, I think, I am more impatient than Melissa). Praise the Lord for this miracle. At this point in our lives, we did not think that God's plan was for us to have children, but He answered our prayers. Praise Him!

The last two months have been quite busy for us. The Lord has blessed tremendously during that time, and we are excited to see how He will continue to bless in this new year. There was a great turnout for both of the outreaches that we had during December. For the Christmas program, we had more than ten visitors. It was exciting to see how the Lord brought many people into the church to celebrate this special moment. Please pray that through this outreach we would see some of the visitors come back, and that they would think on the message that they heard of Christ's birth, death, and resurrection.

Another great blessing came during the "Pause Café" or Coffee Break. I did not expect a large turnout for this outreach, but thought we would have a couple visitors each day. In the end, we had an unbelievable number of people come by to drink a cup of coffee and talk each day. The highlight of the week was when Josiane, a lady that we met at the market, came and accepted Christ as her personal Savior. Please pray that we can accompany her in her spiritual life. She has shown a real desire to grow quickly.
