March, 2003

Greetings from the country that has more beans than anywhere I know: I have had it! I have been sick for eight months and I am sick and tired of being sick! Besides the heart problem, then the arm that refused to work for three months, add to that another operation. Kidney stones on the right side were the culprit this time. They gave me medicine to dislodge them but it only made things worse and I had to have emergency surgery on a Sunday afternoon. After I went home, I began to have pains on the left side and it has been discovered that the medicine they gave me moved stones that are in the left kidney. They are still there and I have an appointment to see if something can be done about them after I get my other tube removed in six weeks. I guess you know my prayer. ‘ ‘ Please Lord, Please’ I think the Devil is trying to kill me so I have decided to give him the opportunity to do it. I have scheduled six weeks of meetings in nine different churches. That of course, includes translating a week for Pastor Randy Parker when he comes in March. Besides that, I have 19 regular Bible school classes per week. I want to be so busy that I won't have time to even think about getting sick.

Delia and I will go to Arizona for a week and I will only preach a couple of times while there and a couple of other times on the way there. We are really looking forward to spending time together on a little vacation. After that, we hope to send Delia to Indiana, where our daughter Kathy will give birth to her first baby. She has been married for 10 years so, this is a very exciting time for them. While Delia hones up her nursing skills, I will drive back to Guadalajara and finish out the school year then hope to join them for a few days in June.

One of our preacher boys entered a contest and won a trip to Cuba. Also, one of our young lady students won the contest for her teaching ability and will also be going. Over the years, I have been invited three different times to go to Cuba to preach and visit churches but I never thought that Cuba really needed me so I never went. If I am still alive by August, I will chaperone them to Cuba.

Saul Amezquita is about finished with his Bible school studies, he is one of the sharpest and most dedicated young men that we have ever had the privilege to teach. He has already accomplished more than the majority of missionaries get done in 8 years. You will probably be hearing from him real soon, It is my prayer that you will consider supporting him as you have so generously supported me.

In the circumference of His great and wonderful love,

Not by works of righteousness which we have done, but according to his mercy he saved us, by the washing of regeneration, and renewing of the Holy Ghost.
