

Matthew 28:5-6 (KJV) "And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here: for he is risen, as he said. Come, see the place where the Lord lay."

Greetings from Delta Junction, Alaska. How wonderful it is to know we serve a risen Saviour. Thank you so much for all your prayers and support. We thank the Lord for His goodness and mercy as He has supplied to meet our needs and given grace during recent physical struggles.

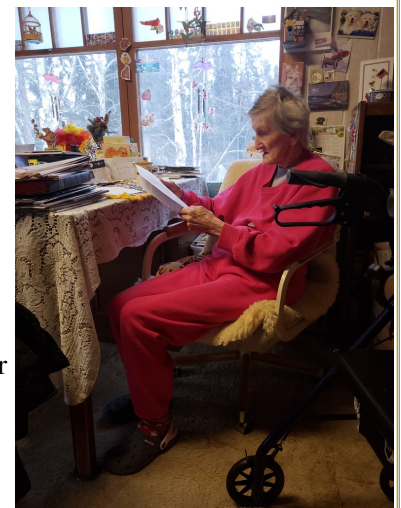

We appreciate all your prayers for Jonathan. We praise the Lord that he is now coming to church on Sundays and Wednesdays. We also meet together at least once a week for about 2 hours for Bible study. He confesses to know the Lord as his Saviour, but struggles with things he was taught in the past. He has a true desire to walk with the Lord. Please continue to pray for him, as well as for me as I minister to Him.

I see Michael occasionally but have observed no changes with him. I continue to give him tracts, talk with him about eternity and remind him that God loves him and that Jesus died for him. He says, "I know" but then changes the subject. Please continue to pray for him.

We visited a lady the other day, as we often do, to encourage her and see how she is doing. She asked questions about the Sabbath and a Bible lesson that I gave her the previous week from Colossians 2:18-23 entitled "Beware of Man-made Disciplines". I explained to her using Scriptures about the Sabbath. She then shared with us about all the religions she has been a part of over the years. This gave us a better understanding as to why she is so confused, not only about worshipping on the Sabbath, but just about every Bible teaching. Pray that God will give us wisdom as we talk with her and also pray that her eyes will be opened that she might see the Truth.

We lost a dear friend, Betty, on April 2nd. During the 15 years that we knew her, we saw good times as well as difficult ones and grew very close to her. She was a Jehovah's Witness and held to that teaching. When we gave her a tract she would say she did not need that. But when I gave her Bible lessons, not only would she take them, but also read them over and over. If I failed to bring one when we visited her, she would ask where her lesson was.

The last picture I took of her before she became bedridden is of her sitting at her table reading a Gospel lesson and tract about God's love that we had given to her. After she was confined to her bed, we continued to give her lessons and to pray with her until she became so weak that she was unable to sit up. At times she was barely responsive, but we would pray with her and talk to her. We visited her two days before she passed. We told her who we were. Although she never opened her eyes or said a word, she pulled her hands out from the covers and took our hands. For the last time we told her of Jesus' love for her and prayed with her. Only God knows her heart. We pray that she got it all settled with Him. We continue to visit with her son. He takes the Bible lessons and is reading them. We pray that God will open his heart so that he will be saved.

Once again, we thank you for your prayers and support for us and the work to which God has called us here in Delta Junction, Alaska.

In His service,

Ernie + Nancy Wyrick
