Greetings from Delta Junction, Alaska,

To those that did not get our newsletter that I emailed in January, a lot has happened since I wrote back in October. We were in Cordova, Alaska from December 12th to February 3rd helping out the Bourdess Family while they took a short furlough to visit family in South Carolina.

Nancy and I returned to Delta Junction on Wednesday, February 5th. It was a great blessing being there in Cordova. We were able to spend time with Leslie and Amy and their two daughters before they left for the lower 48 and after they returned. The people of MorningStar Independent Baptist Church of Cordova made us feel welcome and were a real blessing to us.

We enjoyed getting to know them and worshipping and fellowshiping with them. God gave us several opportunities to minister while there, not just during the regular services on Sundays and Wednesdays. Leading the Patch the Pirate Club meetings for 4 weeks on Friday afternoons from 3 to 5 p.m. gave us the opportunity to get to know the children.

Not only were we able to minister there at the church, we also assisted some church families with some of their needs. The last weekend we were there, we participated in the Cordova Iceworm Festival. Yes, an ice worm is a worm that lives in glaciers. The festival includes a parade on the last day of the weeklong event. The church has entered the parade the last couple of years. Due to all the snow we had during that week, the plane did not make it in on that Friday and the Bourdess family was stuck in Anchorage an extra day. They asked us if we could fill in for them. We had fun decorating their SUV and distributing about 180 zip lock bags with candy and a Gospel tract that they had prepared for the parade before they left.

We want to thank MorningStar Independent Baptist Church of Cordova for their wonderful love offerings, for making us feel so welcome and for all that they did for us while we were there in Cordova. We are thankful also for those special individuals that made it possible for us to fly to Cordova and help with the ministry.

Now that we are back in Delta, we look forward to continuing to serve our wonderful Lord and Savior. We are thankful for each of you that so faithfully pray for us, and the work here in Delta Junction. We are so thankful for all that give so that we can minister here in Delta Junction and other parts of Alaska. Please know we do not take any of you for granted, but are so thankful for all of you. May the Lord bless you all.
