Greetings from Delta Junction, Alaska,

What a time this is! None of us could have ever imagined what has taken place in the past several months. But isn't it wonderful to know that the God we serve, not only knows about it, but also knew about it before the foundation of the world? What a wonderful God we serve. "O give thanks unto the Lord, for he is good: for his mercy endureth for ever." Psalm 107:1, "Great is our Lord, and of great power: his understanding is infinite." Psalm 147:5. We can rest in the loving arms of our Heavenly Father. He is in control of it all.

Just like most of you, we have had to change the way we do ministry. Services have been interrupted and home visits are limited as well. But God has opened other ways to minister to the people here in Delta Junction. We have learned to be more flexible and to be open to other methods of ministry that in the past we knew were available but were not being utilized. But if we will let God do the leading, we will be amazed at what He will and can do when we will stop limiting Him by our lack of faith.

As many of you know, we used to have services at the assisted living center here in Delta Junction. Sadly, the center has been closed now for almost two years. But one of the ladies that prepared the meals for the residents worked almost every Sunday. She would sit in the kitchen and listen to my sermons. We would talk with her and give her a Gospel lesson each week that she worked. After the center closed, we saw her occasionally around town. Last December, we met her at a hotel in Fairbanks the day before we flew to Cordova. She had recently been diagnosed with cancer and was beginning treatment. I prayed with her and talked with her about God and His love and care for her. While we were in Cordova, she had a fire and lost her home. We called her from Cordova and again when we returned to Delta. A month ago, she lost her Dad to a heart attack. She has been through so much and her battles continue. Two weeks ago she called to share her burden regarding family problems. I talked with her and she allowed me to pray with her. I have written all this to tell of God's grace, His mercy and His wonderful love. On the Friday before Easter, she called me again. When I asked her how I could help her, she said, "I need to be saved". What a privilege it was to lead her to the Lord. That afternoon I took her a Bible and some other materials to help her get started in her walk with God. Nancy has been in contact with her and we are planning to work with her more when Nancy returns from visiting her parents in North Carolina. Our contact will be limited for a while due to her cancer treatment, her weakened immune system and the social distancing mandates. Please keep her in your prayers as she starts her new life with Christ.

Nancy and I are grateful for all your prayers and support. We do not take it for granted because we know many of you are struggling financially as well. We want you to know that we appreciate all that you do for us. We are so blessed to have friends like each of you that pray for us and support us financially.

Your missionaries,
